BIG THINGS ARE PLANNED

P. & L. E. Railroad Busy With Track Work In Valley

THROUGH TO NEW YORK

Dream of New York Central President May be Realized Through Recent Changes

Work is being rapidly pushed by the P. & L. E. railroad company on the Monongahela branch laying a double track so that the fast trains from the Western Maryland coming from New York and Harrisburg will have an easy entrance to Pittsburgh. At Elizabeth town trouble has been encountered and the council of that place is at loggerheads with the company over the laying of a double track through the town. As a result the trains now stop at the lower end of the town and it is possible unless a settlement is made in the near future the tracks will be laid some distance from the little town altogether.

It is expected that train service over the Western Maryland lines through Connellsville to Pittsburgh will be by way of the Monongahela valley. Connections are to be established at Fayette City. A connection line is to be built between the latter point and a point along the tracks of the P. and L. E. near Perryopolis. Thence easy connections will be made with Connellsville.

Western Maryland trains will run from eastern points through to Connellsville on their own tracks, a new line from Cumberland to Connellsville now being in course of construction, and will then have access north and in various other directions over the P. & L. E. lines.

The New York Central will be running its New York to Chicago limited train through Harrisburg within the next two years, is the prediction of railroad men who have been giving close attention to maneuvering of President George F. Baer and those at the head of the New York Central for control of the Western Maryland railroad and its connecting links.

WILL HOLD A BIG REUNION

Knights of Pythias of Western Pennsylvania to Conclave at Idlewild

Knights of Pythias lodge of Western Pennsylvania have begun preparations for a grand reunion to be held at Idlewild Park, on Tuesday, August 29. Committees have been selected to arrange the affair. Two special trains from the east will start at Johnstown, and the two from the west will start from East Liberty and from Wilmerling, respectively. The one from the southwest branch will start from Mt. Pleasant, and is probable one will be run from the Monongahela valley.

The most important point about paint is not so much what it is made of—but what it will do—Lawrence preserves and beautifies. J. H. Bowers. 271t1

KING GEORGE IS CROWNED BY ENGLAND

Charleroi Boy Attends Coronation as Representative of New York Paper

Former subjects of Great Britain in Charleroi, of which there are many, were greatly interested in the coronation of King George yesterday. All the details of the gorgeous event, with its pomp and ceremony were eagerly read together with descriptions of scenes and incidents familiar to many people here. On account of his illustrious grandmother, the late Queen Victoria, the present sovereign of Great Britain stands high in the regard of former British subjects along the valley.

At least one Charleroi resident witnessed the coronation ceremonies which were perhaps the most gorgeous of the kind ever held in the British Empire. This was Robert Mountsier, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mountsier, of McKean avenue, who is on the staff of the New York Sun, and was sent by that journal to London several weeks ago to be present at the coronation and report the event when it occurred.

STRIKE ON AT VESTA

Miners Out Owing to Trouble Over Explosives

LOSS OF WORK TO 1300

As a result of a dispute between the miners and operators as to the kind of explosives to be used, the Vesta No. 4 mine at California owned by the Jones and Laughlin Steel company has been closed indefinitely. The mine employs 1,300 men.

The miners insist that they shall be allowed to use the old black powder in blasting while the mine officials demand they shall use carbonite, which is said to be less dangerous than the old powder. Both the miners and the operators are standing firm and the mine will probably be closed for an indefinite period.

BROWN-ELLIOTT WEDDING OCCURS

At the home of the bride's mother, near Fayette City at 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening Miss Estella Elliott and Jesse R. Brown, the secretary-treasurer of the Belle Vernon Savings and Trust company were married. Rev. E. M. Bowman, pastor of the Brownsville Presbyterian church performed the ceremony. Both the bride and groom are well known in this vicinity.

NATIONAL MINE OFFICIALS TO BE AT BELLE VERNON

John P. White, President, Frank Hayes, Vice President and Others to Make Addresses

PICNIC AND OUTING TO BE AT LINN'S GROVE

JOHN P. WHITE

Miners from Belle Vernon and vicinity are anticipating a big time Saturday, when an outing will be held at Belle Vernon. Mines will be closed down and thousands are expected to attend the affair.

Prominent mine officials will be present, chief among whom will be John P. White, national president of the United Mine Workers of America. Frank J. Hayes, the national vice president and Timothy Donovan, district secretary-treasurer, will also be there. All the visiting officials will make addresses. Beginning with a parade at 9 o'clock in the morning when some of the visitors will be met at the station upon their arrival, an elaborate program is arranged. The parade will terminate at Linn's Grove back of Belle Vernon. A picnic will be served. Sporting events will be held during the afternoon. Two ball games between the Fayette City and Belle Vernon teams will be played.

FOURTH OF JULY AT CALIFORNIA

Up River People Plan Big Demonstration on Independence Day

California people are planning a big Fourth of July demonstration and a program of events is now being prepared. The old town usually tries to have something to commemorate Independence Day, but this year's attempt will be on a more elaborate scale than previously.

A feature of the program in the afternoon will be a ball game between a California team and an out-of-town team, yet to be selected. Preceding the game the Rev. A. W. Renton, pastor of the Methodist church of California will read the Declaration of Independence.

A sporting program will be a feature. Races will be open to all and they will be as follows: Marathon race, boys under 15 years, automobile races, egg race for girls, sack race, 100-yard dash for boys under 12 years, tug of war, Crescent vs Vesta 10 men on each side, bicycle race, greased pole climb, 100-yard dash for girls, wheel barrow race, throwing baseball for women.

In addition to this long program there will be a greased pig contest, the prize to the one who successfully holds on to his pigskin being the pig himself. Nearly $1,000 worth of fireworks will be set off in the evening.

GOVERNOR TENER FAILS TO COME

Attends Celebration at McKeesport and is Detained There All Day

Governor J. K. Tener failed to come to Charleroi as was scheduled Thursday but was forced to remain at McKeesport all day where a celebration was being held. He telephoned in the afternoon that he would be unable to come. His friends here still looked for him today. It is possible Governor Tener may not return to his old home here until the Fourth of July, when he expects to be back. At McKeesport Thursday he made an interesting address.

ALPHA PHI BETA CLUB HOLDS DANCE

People from all along the valley attended the first summer dance given at Eldora Park Thursday evening by the Alpha Phi Beta fraternity of young men of Charleroi. The affair was easily one of the most enjoyable ever held by this popular club. Dancing was from 8 to 1 o'clock and Wheeler's orchestra, augmented for the occasion, furnished the music. Among the towns represented at the dance were Brownsville, California, Monessen, Belle Vernon, Monongahela and Donora. A committee of sixteen young men composing members of the fraternity arranged and carried out the affair.

MANY DELEGATES ATTEND OPENING OF CONVENTION

Sunday School Workers Will Have a Busy Day Today at Canonsburg

Delegates to the county Sunday School convention after the opening session at Canonsburg Thursday are getting down to the real work at today's session. This evening will be the big evening of the affair, and it is expected that thousands from all over the county will be present. The convention was featured Thursday by the presentation of diplomas to 200 graduates of the teacher's training class and the appointing of committees. Today the chief address will be made by H. J. Heinz, president of the State association of Sabbath Schools.

Committees were appointed as follows:

Place of next meeting—Mrs. Joseph

WEDDED IN DECEMBER

Popular Charleroi Girl the Bride of College Graduate

KEPT AFFAIR A SECRET

Just a few hours after the groom had received his diploma as a graduate from Waynesburg College, announcement was made Thursday of the marriage six months ago of Harry Glenn Parkinson, of Old Concord, Washington county, and Miss Mary Hope Patton, the popular daughter of Dr. and Mrs. N.W. Patton of Washington avenue, Charleroi. The couple were married at Cumberland, Md. Announcement was made at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of T. J. Huffman, at Waynesburg.

Miss Patton formerly attended school at Waynesburg College. That is where she and Mr. Parkinson met. She left the institution of learning after taking a two years' course.

On December 28, unknown to any except the two families, the couple went to Cumberland, where they were quietly married. They returned home and Mr. Parkinson continued his college work, it being the intention to keep the news of the affair a secret until after he received his diploma.

At a gathering arranged especially for the occasion at the home of Mr. Huffman Thursday the announcement was made. It occasioned considerable surprise. The bride and groom were made subjects for hearty congratulations. Mr. Parkinson had received his diploma in the forenoon at the close of the commencement exercises lasting the greater part of the week. The couple will not take any trip for the present. It is the intention of Mr. Parkinson to enter State College the coming fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Parkinson are popular in social circles of Waynesburg and Charleroi, where they are both widely known. Mrs. Parkinson is a former Charleroi High School girl. Mr. Parkinson is the son of T. L. Parkinson of Old Concord and a young man of character who commands the esteem of all.

PREPARE FOR CONVENTION

Monongahela People to Entertain Fireman in August

FEATURES WILL BE MANY

Big Parade Will be A Chief Thing of Interest—Thousands to Take Part.

Local committees are busy at Monongahela making preliminary arrangements for the Eighteenth annual convention of the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's Association to be held there during the week beginning August 7. It is expected that the convention will be one of the best and largest attended ever held by the association. Circulars are being sent out advertising the affair.

Firemen from all over the western part of the State are expected to be present for the affair and it will be a gala week at Monongahela, second only to the old Home Week observed there two years ago.

Councils has been importuned to lend assistance and arrangements have been made for use of the streets, the idea being to install some carnival features for the gala days.

One of the chief features will undoubtedly be the parade, in which thousands of firemen will participate. Last year at Carnegie where the annual convention was held, there was a big automobile and foot parade.

MONESSEN PEOPLE GETTING MATTERS IN GOOD SHAPE

Fourth of July Celebration Promises to be Attraction of Unusual Merit

The various sub-committees who have in charge the Fourth of July celebration are down to hard work and the indications are that this year's blowout at Monessen will be larger and more successful than the one held last year.

The foreign organizations are especially active and the leaders of the different nationalities are at work among their fellow countrymen explaining to them the significance of Fourth of July and what it means to America and Americans.

The people of one nationality have subscribed $500 for a magnificent float and other display features to be exhibited in the Pageant of All Nations.

Much interest is being taken in the sports which will be held on the Page grounds in the afternoon and nearly all of the best athletes in the Valley have sent in their entries for the various events which will be conducted under A. A. U. rules and in charge of A. A. U. officials.

The fireworks will be another unique feature. The display will be touched off from the hills opposite Monessen so that it can be seen from all parts of town. Double the money will be expended for fireworks over the amount invested last year.

It will be a gala day and invitations are freely extended to the residents of the neighboring towns to participate.

J. K. Tener, Pres. S. A. Walton, Vice Pres. R. H. Rush, Cashier.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

A RELATIVE VIEW POINT.

While the remnant of feudalism displayed in the pomp and pageantry of the crowning of King George of England meets with more or less criticism from the democratic standpoint of the present day, it nevertheless caters to a vein of human nature that is still largely predominant. Great events without accompanying material demonstrations are not satisfying to the public, and there is hardly a public event from the coronation of a king to the inauguration of a President or Governor, down to a Sunday school convention or labor demonstration that does not attempt some degree of pageantry to add impressiveness to the object of the gathering. Witness the parade of adults at the Sunday school county convention at Canonsburg this week.

There is scarcely a branch of our social, civic and religious life that is exempt from the symbolic heraldry of pagan and feudal times. It is an inherent trait of human nature, and the spectacular effects of leading events and social and religious observances are considered necessary to impress the importance and significance of the event or observance upon the public mind. We Americans are as fond of pomp and pageantry as our British cousins, and the criticisms we bestow upon the coronation of King George are from our personal view point, and therefore have little weight. As to expenditure, we probably have spent more money in the inauguration of Presidents and Governors during the past fifty years than have our British cousins in coronations.

GOOD ADVICE.

Grand Chief Warren S. Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers delivered an address to members of his craft at Connellsville the other night and gave some good advice which can be followed with profit by every worker and citizen. Among other things he said:

"A railroad has every right to restrict the use of liquor among its employees whether on or off duty. It has the right to know what you are doing when you are off duty. It has the right to know on whom it can rely in case of emergency. The poorest kind of courage an engineer can take before going out on a hard run is two drinks of whiskey."

"I believe if we could trace the matter back far enough we would find that some of our worst wrecks are due to unhappy homes, where an engineer has his mind detracted from his duty by something that has happened at home. The wives and mothers have the hardest part of railroad life; the uncertain hours and the dread that is always present that their loved ones may not return."

Every person's mental discipline and control has more to do with their success in life than their manual and technical training. The man who controls and subjugates his passions and appetites stands a better show for success than the man of mere brilliant natural attainments who becomes a slave to his passions. Chief Stone's advice contains the keynote for success in every avocation of life.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

How many people in Charleroi recall the great railroad riots in 1877? Not many perhaps as Charleroi was not even thought of then. There are some of the older people who were living elsewhere at the time who will remember the troublous times of 1877, when Pittsburgh was the storm center. It was there that the union station was burned by a mob, together with other valuable railroad property, entailing a loss of millions of dollars which the taxpayers of Pittsburgh had to pay. Capt J. K. Hein, a member of Charleroi council, is one who had some thrilling experience in the Pittsburgh riots in the capacity of a militiaman, and probably remembers the troubles of 1877 more vividly than any other citizen of Charleroi.

Scribner's Magazine for July contains an interesting account of the railroad riots of 1877, which recalls perhaps the most strenuous period of Pittsburgh's existence. "The drama opened at Martinsburg W. Va., on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, on which the ten-per-cent reduction was ordered to take effect on July 16," states the article. "Accepted by other employees, it was resisted by the firemen, who during that afternoon began to abandon their trains. By persuasion and threats they induced other workmen to join them. No trains were allowed to pass; a blockade of freight was created and maintained. The strike spread quickly over the line; by midnight the strikers were in control of a large part of the railroad and the strike had become a riot. The Governor called out the whole military force of the State, which consisted of three volunteer companies, but they were unable to cope with the situation, so that on the 18th he called upon President Hayes for aid. The President responded by the usual proclamation and at once sent 250 regulars to Martinsburg.

"Saturday afternoon was a bad time to tackle a mob in Pittsburgh. It was a general half-holiday and the crowd was swelled by the mill and factory hands and the miners in the neighborhood, who as well as the train men were exasperated by the news of bloodshed in Baltimore and doubted the legality of the presence of State troops. Tramps abounded and these together with outcasts and criminals gave a lawless complexion to the mob they reinforced. Latta and Pearson met the Philadelphia troops at the Union Station, and Brinton acted under the command of his superior officers. Before setting out on the march to Twenty-eighth Street he gave instructions to his two brigadiers and to his regimental commanders to the effect that he did not want a shot fired, but that if personal violence was attempted the men should defend themselves. The Philadelphia troops then marched to the Twenty-eighth Street crossing where they found the Pittsburgh militia fraternizing with a mob of many thousands in which the vicious element was large. They partly cleared the tracks, but as the rioters pressed between their ranks they were forced to the defensive and formed a hollow square.

A bayonet charge wounded a number and exasperated the rest. The rioters threw stones and lumps of coal at the soldiers and followed up these missiles with pistol-shots. Emboldened by the lack of resistance, those in front seized the muskets and attempted to wrest them from the troops. Some few were disarmed when at about 5 o'clock a scattering fire began along the line, which increased to a volley, but, as the officers did their best to stop it, lasted less than a minute. But at least sixteen of the rioters were instantly killed and many were wounded."

LUTHERANS PULL
SECOND FROM THE
WASHINGTON AVES.

Beautiful Eight Inning Struggle
Features Baseball
Engagement

Playing together much better than they did on the previous evening the Washington Avenues gave the Lutherans a hard run for their money and were finally beaten out by the score of 5 to 4. Thereupon the Lutherans summed first place. It was an eight inning struggle, and featured by lots of nice plays. It was one of the best games that has been played on the local diamond this year.

Friend Joe Mason essayed to pitch or the Lutherans and did a pretty air job. He was a trifle wild but tucked to the mound until the fifth inning when he retired in favor of Chief Leaver Miller.

The Lutherans started right in to win the game in the first inning. In two doubles they scored one. In the second inning they were given a core. A base on balls and a couple of misplays were responsible. In the fourth they got two more on three hits and a three bagger and a sacrifice.

The Washington Avenues captured here scores in the fourth inning, when he entire outfit batted. With only one hit they did all this too, but they were aided by that elusive element luck. In the sixth they tied things up by getting one score on two hits, stolen base and an error.

After shoving the first three Washington Avenue men to one side without any trouble, the Lutherans started ed in to do things in the eighth and did them. Miller was out on a fly to right. Fleming came up and with two strikes captured a hit in the direction of left. He stole second. Then Joe Mason with his mighty black stick walked to the plate and proceeded to lace out a two baser to middle right, scoring Fleming. That ended it. Score:

baseball game, but on an average of once or twice a night he pulls off some kind of a stunt that makes him look good. He bats contrary to every known rule, but there he is, the Washington Avenue's clean-up man.

A protest has been registered on Wednesday's game by the Washington Avenues. They claim that Shortstop Stech of the Lutherans when completing his home run failed to touch third base and the umpire did not call him out.

Miller complained of sore arm when Mason sent him in the box, but he pitched well anyhow.

The first time up Butz got a freak double right over the first baseman's head. He hadn't any more than pulled off that stunt until Stech pulled off another something similar.

Charley Mason covers first base well, but at present he seems to be a trifle weak in hitting.

Friend Joe Mason started in to pitch just to see how it would go. He found out.

In the Baptist game Tuesday Morris was credited with an error he shouldn't have had. It was a throw to first base to get Wilson who had the throw beaten plainly.

With the rivalry rising at fever heat the Executive Committee is promised some tall work keeping things going right from now on.

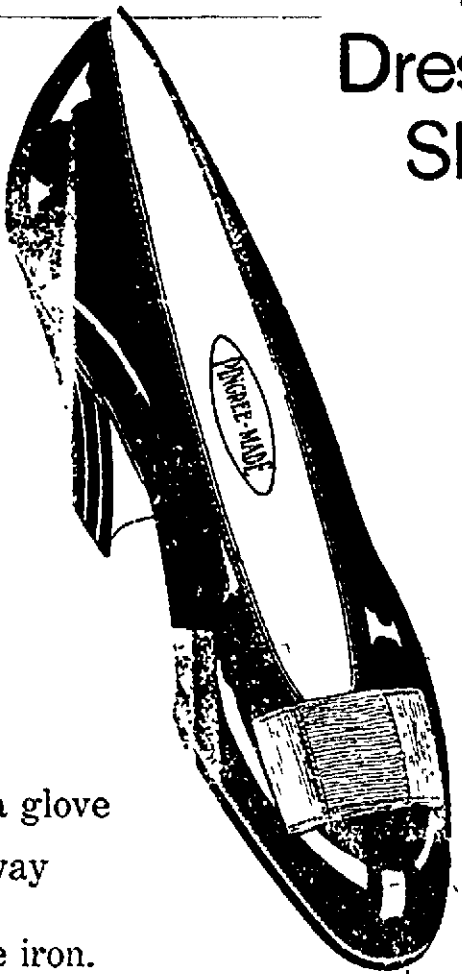

Fontanesi pitched good ball for the Washington Avenues.

WAS NATIVE OF COUNTY

Rev. Herbert H. Moninger Dies at Home in Ohio

SON-IN-LAW J. V. COOPER

Rev. Herbert H. Moninger, one of the best known young men in Sunday school work in the United States, died last night at 10:30 o'clock at his home in Cincinnati, O., after several weeks' illness. Mr. Moninger had undergone an operation for appendicitis and bowel trouble and his family had thought he was getting better.
Rev. Herbert H. Moninger was a native of this county. He was born at Lone Pine. After finishing work at various schools he assumed his first pastorate at Tiffin, Ohio, where he preached one year. He then received a call and accepted the pastorate of the First Church of Christ of Steubenville, O. He was there for three years doing a splendid work in that church. After leaving Steubenville he located in Cincinnati, and had been engaged in Sunday school work ever since, or about six years.
On Christmas day 1900 he was married to Miss Grace Cooper, whom he had met at Bethany, she having been graduated from that institution. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Cooper, of near Charleroi. She survives, and twin children, Malcom and Mildred. The father, Onias Moninger of Washington and the following brothers and sisters also survive: Wildon Moninger, a farmer residing near Lone Pine; Mrs. Edward M. Rassey of Amity, and Misses Olive and Nettie at home. His mother died in 1904.

Rev. Moninger recently made a trip to Palestine. He lectured extensively.

BOY MEETS WITH SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Accidentally Discharges Shotgun Which Results in Amputation of Hand

Willie Pegg, the 15-year-old son of S. B. Pegg of near town, had his right hand blown off Thursday evening while he was holding a shotgun for his father. The boy after being attended by Dr. N. W. Patton was taken to the Memorial Hospital, Monongahela, where amputation was found necessary, and the arm was taken off just above the wrist.

Willie was out with his father at the Charleroi cemetery, of which Mr. Pegg is the care-taker. Mr. Pegg had a shotgun and he asked the boy to hold it for a moment while he was doing some work. Willie took hold of the gun, and resting it against a stump placed his right hand over the muzzle.

The boy turning around to look at something in the cemetery, the trigger caught and the gun went off, blowing Willie's hand to shreds.

BIG THINGS ARE PLANNED

& L. E. Railroad Busy With Track Work In Valley

THROUGH TO NEW YORK

Team of New York Central President May be Realized Through Recent Changes

Work is being rapidly pushed by the & L. E. railroad company on the Monongahela branch laying a double track so that the fast trains from the eastern Maryland coming from New York and Harrisburg will have an easy passage to Pittsburgh. At Elizabethville has been encountered and the result of that place is at loggerheads with the company over the laying of double track through the town. As a result the trains now stop at the river end of the town and it is possible unless a settlement is made in the near future the tracks will be laid some distance from the little town altogether.

It is expected that train service over the Western Maryland lines through Connellsville to Pittsburgh will be by way of the Monongahela Valley. Connections are to be established at Fayette City. A connection is to be built between the latter and a point along the tracks of the P. and L. E. near Perryopolis, hence easy connections will be made with Connellsville.

Western Maryland trains will run on eastern points through to Connellsville on their own tracks, a new line from Cumberland to Connellsville now being in course of construction, and will then have access north and various other directions over the P. & L. E. lines.

The New York Central will be running its New York to Chicago limited train through Harrisburg within the next two years, is the prediction of broad men who have been giving their attention to maneuvering of the president George F. Baer and those at the head of the New York Central for control of the Western Maryland railroad and its connecting links.

WILL HOLD A BIG REUNION

Nights of Pythias of Western Pennsylvania to Conclave at Idlewild

Nights of Pythias lodge of Western Pennsylvania have begun preparations for a grand reunion to be held at Idlewild Park, on Tuesday, August 29. Committees have been selected to arrange the affair. Two special trains in the east will start at Johnstown, the two from the west will start in East Liberty and from Wilmering, respectively. The one from the thickest branch will start from Mt. Pleasant, and is probable one will run from the Monongahela valley.

KING GEORGE IS CROWNED BY ENGLAND

Charleroi Boy Attends Coronation as Representative of New York Paper

Former subjects of Great Britain in Charleroi, of which there are many, were greatly interested in the coronation of King George yesterday. All the details of the gorgeous event, with its pomp and ceremony were eagerly read together with descriptions of scenes and incidents familiar to many people here. On account of his illustrious grandmother, the late Queen Victoria, the present sovereign of Great Britain stands high in the regard of former British subjects along the valley.

At least one Charleroi resident witnessed the coronation ceremonies which were perhaps the most gorgeous of the kind ever held in the British Empire. This was Robert Mountsier, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mountsier, of McKean avenue, who is on the staff of the New York Sun, and was sent by that journal to London several weeks ago to be present at the coronation and report the event when it occurred.

Miners Out Owing to Trouble Over Explosives

LOSS OF WORK TO 1300

As a result of a dispute between the miners and operators as to the kind of explosives to be used, the Vesta No. 4 mine at California owned by the Jones and Laughlin Steel company has been closed indefinitely. The mine employs 1,300 men.

The miners insist that they shall be allowed to use the old black powder in blasting while the mine officials demand they shall use carbonite, which is said to be less dangerous than the old powder. Both the miners and the operators are standing firm and the mine will probably be closed for an indefinite period.

Two ball games between the Fayette City and Belle Vernon teams will be played.

FOURTH OF JULY AT CALIFORNIA

Up River People Plan Big Demonstration on Independence Day

California people are planning a big Fourth of July demonstration and a program of events is now being prepared. The old town usually tries to have something to commemorate Independence Day, but this year's attempt will be on a more elaborate scale than previously.

A feature of the program in the afternoon will be a ball game between a California team and an out-of-town team, yet to be selected. Preceding the game the Rev. A. W. Renton, pastor of the Methodist church of California will read the Declaration of Independence.

A sporting program will be a feature. Races will be open to all and they will be as follows: Marathon race, boys under 15 years, automobile races, egg race for girls, sack race, 100-yard dash for boys under 12 years, tug of war, Crescent vs Vesta 10 men on each side, bicycle race, greased pole climb, 100-yard dash for girls, wheel barrow race, throwing baseball for women.

In addition to this long program there will be a greased pig contest, the prize to the one who successfully holds on to his pigskin being the pig himself. Nearly $1,000 worth of fireworks will be set off in the evening.

Governor J. K. Tener failed to come to Charleroi as was scheduled Thursday but was forced to remain at McKeesport all day where a celebration was being held. It is possible Governor Tener may not return to his old home here until the Fourth of July, when he expects to be back. At McKeesport Thursday he made an interesting address.

ALPHA PHI BETA CLUB HOLDS DANCE

People from all along the valley attended the first summer dance given at Eldora Park Thursday evening by the Alpha Phi Beta fraternity of young men of Charleroi. The affair was easily one of the most enjoyable ever held by this popular club. Dancing was from 8 to 1 o'clock and Wheeler's orchestra, augmented for the occasion, furnished the music. Among the towns represented at the dance were Brownsville, California, Monaca, Belle Vernon, Monongahela and Donora. MANY DELEGATES ATTEND OPENING OF CONVENTION

Sunday School Workers Will Have a Busy Day Today at Canonsburg

Delegates to the county Sunday School convention after the opening session at Canonsburg Thursday are getting down to the real work at today's session. This evening will be the big evening of the affair, and it is expected that thousands from all over the county will be present. The convention was featured Thursday by the presentation of diplomas to 200 graduates of the teacher's training class and the appointing of committees. Today the chief address will be made by H. J. Heinz, president of the State association of Sabbath Schools.

Committees were appointed as follows:

WEDDED IN DECEMBER

Popular Charleroi Girl the Bride of College Graduate

KEPT AFFAIR A SECRET

Just a few hours after the groom had received his diploma as a graduate from Waynesburg College, announcement was made Thursday of the marriage six months ago of Harry Glenn Parkinson, of Old Concord, Washington county, and Miss Mary Hope Patton, the popular daughter of Dr. and Mrs. N.W. Patton of Washington avenue, Charleroi. The couple were married at Cumberland, Md. Announcement was made at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of T. J. Huffman, at Waynesburg.

Miss Patton formerly attended school at Waynesburg College. That is where she and Mr. Parkinson met. She left the institution of learning after taking a two years' course.

On December 28, unknown to any except the two families, the couple went to Cumberland, where they were quietly married. They returned home and Mr. Parkinson continued his college work, it being the intention to keep the news of the affair a secret until after he received his diploma.

At a gathering arranged especially for the occasion at the home of Mr. Huffman Thursday the announcement was made. It occasioned considerable surprise. The bride and groom were made subjects for hearty congratulations. Mr. Parkinson had received his diploma in the forenoon at the close of the commencement exercises lasting the greater part of the week. The couple will not take any trip for the present. It is the intention of Mr. Parkinson to enter State College the coming fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Parkinson are popular in social circles of Waynesburg and Charleroi, where they are both widely known. Mrs. Parkinson is a former Charleroi High School girl. Mr. Parkinson is the son of T. L. Parkinson of Old Concord and a young man of character who commands the esteem of all.

PREPARE FOR CONVENTION

Monongahela People to Entertain Firemen in August

FEATURES WILL BE MANY

Big Parade Will be a Chief Thing of Interest—Thousands to Take Part.

Local committees are busy at Monongahela making preliminary arrangements for the Eighteenth annual convention of the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's Association to be held there during the week beginning August 7. It is expected that the convention will be one of the best and largest attended ever held by the association. Circulars are being sent out advertising the affair.

Firemen from all over the western part of the State are expected to be present for the affair and it will be a gala week at Monongahela, second only to the old Home Week observed there two years ago.

Councils has been importuned to lend assistance and arrangements have been made for use of the streets, the idea being to install some carnival features for the gala days.

One of the chief features will undoubtedly be the parade, in which thousands of firemen will participate. Last year at Carnegie where the annual convention was held, there was a big automobile and foot parade.

MONESSEN PEOPLE GETTING MATTERS IM GOOD SHAPE

Fourth of July Celebration Promises to be Attraction of Unusual Merit

The various sub-committees who have in charge the Fourth of July celebration are down to hard work and the indications are that this year's blowout at Monessen will be larger and more successful than the one held last year.

The foreign organizations are especially active and the leaders of the different nationalities are at work among their fellow countrymen explaining to them the significance of Fourth of July and what it means to America and Americans.

The people of one nationality have subscribed $500 for a magnificent float and other display features to be exhibited in the Pageant of All Nations.

Much interest is being taken in the sports which will be held on the Pageant grounds in the afternoon and nearly all of the best athletes in the Valley have sent in their entries for the various events which will be conducted under A. A. U. rules and in charge of A. A. U. officials.

The fireworks will be another unique feature. The display will be touched off from the hills opposite Monessen so that it can be seen from all parts of town. Double the money will be expended for fireworks over the amount invested last year.

It will be a gala day and invitations are freely extended to the residents of the neighboring towns to participate.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

(From noon today to noon tomorrow.)
Sun sets 7:31, rises 4:26; moon rises 2:24 a. m.

A RELATIVE VIEW POINT.

While the remnant of feudalism displayed in the pomp and pageantry of the crowning of King George of England meets with more or less criticism from the democratic standpoint of the present day, it nevertheless caters to a vein of human nature that is still largely predominant. Great events without accompanying material demonstrations are not satisfying to the public, and there is hardly a public event from the coronation of a king to the inauguration of a President or Governor, down to a Sunday school convention or labor demonstration that does not attempt some degree of pageantry to add impressiveness to the object of the gathering. Witness the parade of adults at the Sunday school county convention at Canonsburg this week.

There is scarcely a branch of our social, civic and religious life that is exempt from the symbolic heraldry of pagan and feudal times. It is an inherent trait of human nature, and the spectacular effects of leading events and social and religious observances are considered necessary to impress the importance and significance of the event or observance upon the public mind. We Americans are as fond of pomp and pageantry as our British cousins, and the criticisms we bestow upon the coronation of King George are from our personal view point, and therefore have little weight. As to expenditure, we probably have spent more money on the inauguration of Presidents and Governors during the past fifty years than have our British cousins in coronations.

GOOD ADVICE.

Grand Chief Warren S. Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers delivered an address to members of his craft at Connellsville the other night and gave some good advice which can be followed with profit by every worker and citizen. Among other things he said:

"A railroad has every right to restrict the use of liquor among its employees whether on or off duty. It has the right to know what you are doing when you are off duty. It has the right to know on whom it can rely in case of emergency. The poorest kind of courage an engineer can take before going out on a hard run is two drinks of whiskey."

"I believe if we could trace the matter back far enough we would find that some of our worst wrecks are due to unhappy homes, where an engineer has his mind distracted from his duty by something that has happened at home. The wives and mothers have the hardest part of railroad life; the uncertain hours and the dread that is always present that their loved ones may not return."

Every person's mental discipline and control has more to do with their success in life than their manual and technical training. The man who controls and subjugates his passions and appetites stands a better show for success than the man of mere brilliant natural attainments who becomes a slave to his passions. Chief Stone's advice contains the keynote for success in every avocation of life.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

To some men dirty hands don't mean much after they get started to work. The main difficulty is getting them started.

Trusts are having a hard time of it now, especially the trusts who are not the most particular about observing the law.

It is now announced that a revision of the tariff is possible. A revision of the tariff has been possible ever since time began.

When a man is so anxious to have his ideas tried in the reform movement there is something still lacking in his scheme.

Some of the fair damsels at Atlantic City have refused to wear the new kind of bathing suit—the harem—because the "pants" hide neat calves and obscure graceful lines of the figure. Note the way the male sex favors the idea.

The Abe Lincoln of today instead of splitting logs, refuses to split hairs on unimportant matters.

It takes a longer time to crown a king in England than it does to investigate a trust in the United States.

The English people say that Americans live fast. From the way the typewriters are made go in an up-to-date newspaper office, we judge they don't live slow.

It didn't mean as much as a person might think to be in the thicket of the fighting during the Mexican revolution, but still bullets flew frequently enough to give a fellow an occasional scare.

Greed and political ambition, improperly described, are often mistaken for insurgency.

A person never gets to know just how important or how unimportant they are until they attend a family reunion and see the rest of the generation.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

How many people in Charleroi recall the great railroad riots in 1877? Not many perhaps as Charleroi was not even thought of then. There are some of the older people who were living elsewhere at the time who will remember the troublous times of 1877, when Pittsburg was the storm center. It was there that the union station was burned by a mob, together with other valuable railroad property, entailing a loss of millions of dollars which the taxpayers of Pittsburg had to pay. Capt. J. K. Hein, a member of Charleroi council, is one who had some thrilling experience in the Pittsburg riots in the capacity of a militiaman, and probably remembers the troubles of 1877 more vividly than any other citizen of Charleroi.

Scribner's Magazine for July contains an interesting account of the railroad riots of 1877, which recalls perhaps the most strenuous period of Pittsburg's existence. "The drama opened at Martinsburg W. Va., on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, on which the ten-per-cent reduction was ordered to take effect on July 16," states the article. "Accepted by other employees, it was resisted by the firemen, who during that afternoon began to abandon their trains. By persuasion and threats they induced other workmen to join them. No trains were allowed to pass; a blockade of freight was created and maintained. The strike spread quickly over the line; by midnight the strikers were in control of a large part of the road, and the strike had become a riot. The Governor called out the whole military force of the State, which consisted of three volunteer companies, but they were unable to cope with the situation, so that on the 18th he called upon President Hayes for aid. The President responded by the usual proclamation and at once sent 250 regulars to Martinsburg.

"Saturday afternoon was a bad time to tackle a mob in Pittsburg. It was a general half-holiday and the crowd was swelled by the mill and factory hands and the miners in the neighborhood, who as well as the train men were exasperated by the news of bloodshed in Baltimore and doubted the legality of the presence of State troops.

Together with outcasts and criminals gave a lawless complexion to the mob they reinforced. Latta and Pearson met the Philadelphia troops at the Union Station, and Brinton acted under the command of his superior officers. Before setting out on the march to Twenty-eighth Street he gave instructions to his two brigadiers and to his regimental commanders to the effect that he did not want a shot fired, but that if personal violence was attempted the men should defend themselves. The Philadelphia troops then marched to the Twenty-eighth Street crossing where they found the Pittsburg militia fraternizing with a mob of many thousands in which the vicious element was large. They partly cleared the tracks, but as the rioters pressed between their ranks they were forced to the defensive and formed a hollow square.

A bayonet charge wounded a number and exasperated the rest. The rioters threw stones and lumps of coal at the soldiers and followed up these missiles with pistol-shots. Emboldened by the lack of resistance, those in front seized the muskets and attempted to wrest them from the troops. Some few were disarmed when at about 5 o'clock a scattering fire began along the line, which increased to a volley, but, as the officers did their best to stop it, lasted less than a minute. But at least sixteen of the rioters were instantly killed and many were wounded."

THE ALEUTIAN ISLANDS.

They Extend East and West For More Than a Thousand Miles.
Few persons are aware that the shortest route from San Francisco to Japan is by way of Alaska. Nearly a thousand miles are saved to vessels trading with the Orient by coasting along the Aleutian Islands rather than following the Hawaiian route.
The Aleutian Islands, which extend in a chain east and west for more than a thousand miles, are inhabited by the remnant of the Aleuts. Their war of the revolution closed just as the American Revolutionary war began. So patriotic were the Aleuts, so brave in their struggle for independence, that they succumbed to the Russians only after a conflict of nearly fifty years, and then simply because the race was almost exterminated in the struggle.
While the Aleutian Islands must eventually form an important link in the commerce between the United States and the Orient, other islands link our country with the vast empire to the north. In the narrow Bering strait lie two little islands, one occupied by Russia, the other by the United States, so that citizens of the two great nations live on opposite islands within a few miles of each other.

Drilled to Perfection.
From drill man gets accustomed to doing under any circumstances what has been hammered into his brain time after time till it becomes second nature to him. Charles XII. of Sweden, "the madman of the north," ripped most of Europe up the back again and again because his soldiers were drilled to perfection before he let them take the field at a time when there was great neglect of drill in other armies. He valued 1,000 well drilled fighters above 10,000 not so well drilled, and madman or genius, his judgment was vindicated repeatedly in terrible battles. One night Charles XII. was surprised in Poland by an attacking army of 8,000 when his scant force of 600 was sleeping like the dead from the exhaustion of a hard march. Before his outposts and sentinels could be driven in his small band was aroused, mounted, formed in battle line—all in pitchy blackness—and swinging into a fierce charge upon the enemy. By daylight the Russians and Poles, who had thought to eat him up, were virtually annihilated.—New York Press.

Dr. Johnson's Revenge.
Tom Osborne, the bookseller, was one of "that mercantile rugged race to which the delicacy of the poet is sometimes exposed."
Osborne, irritated by what he thought an unnecessary delay on the part of Johnson, went one day into the room where Johnson was sitting and abused him to the most liberal manner. Johnson heard him some time unmoved, but at last, losing all patience, he seized a huge folio and, aiming a blow at the bookseller's head, succeeded in sending him sprawling to the floor. Osborne alarmed the family by his cries, but Johnson, placing his foot on his breast, would not let him stir until he had exposed him in that situation and then left him with this triumphant expression: "Lie there, thou son of dullness, ignorance and obscurity."—From Kearsley's "Anecdotes."

Work of the Locomotive Fireman.
To a husky young man shoveling twenty tons of coal a day may sound like a terrible undertaking, but that is because he fails to appreciate the difference between shoveling that quantity in the course of a ten hour day, standing on a steady footing and pausing for a moment whenever he feels like it to gaze at the scenery or light a cigarette and trying to keep his balance on a jolting, jerking, plunging steel deck which tries ceaselessly to pitch him head first into the side of the cab, while with legs spread wide apart he bumps over a scoop shovel, working with frantic energy to get coal into the firebox fast enough to keep steam up. While the engine is running the fireman must be straddled out on the deck, working continually to the limit of his strength, for ordinarily he will have to get from two and a half to three tons of coal into the firebox every hour. Three and a half tons is generally regarded as the limit of a fireman's capacity, but this has been greatly exceeded on the fastest trains.—Technical World Magazine.

The Music of Birds.
Birds are usually accounted the most musical of animals, yet it is very much of a task to set their notes to music. The reason is that birds are utterly negligent of the laws of harmony. There is not one of them. It is safe to say, that knows the difference between a major third and a dominant chord. This deficiency in musical knowledge is rather surprising when we consider how beautifully the birds sing and may be used as an argument to show that a theoretical knowledge is a humbug. But if birds knew more about harmony their songs could all be set down and quite a decent revenue derived from the sale thereof. Another reason why it is difficult to put the melody of the song birds into notes is that the quality of the tone is unlike any musical instrument. This is true of all birds except the thrush, whose song descends for the first three notes in perfect seconds and with much purity of tone.—From Old Scrap Book.

THE CAMERA OBSCURA.

From It Was Evolved Our Modern Photographic Apparatus.
The camera was invented by an Italian named Baptista Porta, though it was not at first used for photographing. It was in reality merely a dark room, into which the light was admitted through a little round hole in one side. The rays of light coming from objects outside of this room entered through this aperture and made a picture on the other side of the room, glowing in all the beauty and color of nature itself, but rather indistinct and upside down.
This dark room was contrived by Porta about the middle of the sixteenth century. He improved it later by placing a glass lens in the aperture and outside a mirror which reflected the rays of light and reflected them through the lens so that the image upon the opposite wall within was made much brighter, more distinct and in a natural or erect position. This was really the first camera obscura, an invention which is enjoyed to the present day.
Now our modern photographic camera is merely a small camera obscura in its simplest form, carrying a lens at one end and a ground glass screen at the other. It is, however, often much more complicated in its construction.

The Earliest Cold Storage.
In Macaulay's essay on "Lord Bacon" he points out that in 1626 the subject of his memoir tried the experiment of stuffing a fowl with snow to prevent it from putrefying and in carrying out the work caught cold, from which he died. Macaulay adds: "In the last letter that he ever wrote, with fingers which, as he said, could not steadily hold a pen, he did not omit to mention that the experiment of the snow had succeeded excellently well." If, however, we turn to nature there are instances in Siberia of mammoths preserved in ice so that their flesh is still eatable from a period probably coeval with the first appearance of man on this globe. If the Romans brought to their banquets the dainties of the known world, had they not some knowledge of cold storage?—E. H. Hill in London Spectator.

The Misuse of Vinegar.
Dr. Mansell Maullin, M. A., writing in the London Lancet on the causes of gastric ulcer, mentions vinegar as one cause. "In many of these instances, especially those which occur in young women, the effect of this chronic septic poisoning is intensified by the habit so many of them have of swallowing quantities of vinegar. Information with regard to this is very difficult to obtain and is never volunteered. It has to be drawn out bit by bit, but I have met with many instances in which a pint a day has been consumed and a few in which the quantity was occasionally much larger. The effect is probably greater because it is often taken between meals on an empty stomach under the curious impression that it will improve the complexion."

Ancient Rome's Libraries.
The libraries of ancient Rome were immense and splendid. Lucullus, whose name is associated with table luxuries, expended much of his wealth on books. His library, says Plutarch, had "walks, galleries and cabinets open to all visitors." Julius Caesar proposed to open this library definitely to the public.
How were these vast libraries, in addition to the book shops, filled? With his trained staff of readers and transcribers, a publisher could turn out an edition of any work at very cheap rates, and almost at a moment's notice. There was no initial expense of typesetting before a single copy could be produced, no ruinous extras in the shape of printers' corrections. The manuscript came from the author; the publisher handed it over to his slaves, and if a book of modest dimensions, the complete edition could be ready, if necessary, within twenty-four hours. Actually, then, books were produced and sold more easily and quickly in ancient Rome than they are in modern London.—T. P.'s London Weekly.

The "Iliad" Not a Myth.
The fall of Troy after a ten year siege by the Grecian princes about 1184 B. C. has long been considered as a rather mythical foundation for Homer's immortal epic, the "Iliad." But in 1876 the excavations of Schliemann on the reputed site of Troy brought to light under the ashes of two superincumbent fortress cities the remains answering to the descriptions of Homer and a hidden vault containing goblets, bowls, vases, gems, jewels, armes de luxe and like articles in gold, silver and bronze. These treasures are now generally acknowledged to be the veritable remnants of the once vast riches of Priam, which, although depleted by ten years of costly warfare in the purchase of supplies and mercenaries and the final sack of the ruined city, were thus preserved to enrich the museums of Europe and greatly increase our realization of the wealth and art of that ancient Ilum, which we have hitherto been disposed to consider a poet's dream. (The British Museum in London.)

Patience.
Her Mother—You must be patient with him. The Bride—Oh, I am. I know it will take time for him to see that he can't have his own way.

The Secret Test.
"How," the president of the Fat Man's club was asked, "did you prevent fraud among your applicants for membership?" Didn't some men try to get in the weren't up to the standard weight?"
"Yes," the club officer replied, "but it was no secret. The applicants had to be present at the meeting at the Polk building, and there was no elevator. The applicant climbed the five flights of stairs."
"And you did not a man who asked, 'Where is the looking for the Fat Man's club?'"
"Yes."
"The club office is on the first floor," the man said. "Your application is rejected. We receive no man who can climb five flights of stairs."—Youth's Companion.

The One Who Got Hurt.
"Was your husband one of the contestants at bridge?"
"Oh, no," replied Mrs. Flungit. "All he did was to draw a check for my losses. His attitude was merely that of the innocent bystander."—Washington Star.

Another Boring Question.
"I say, pa, is a man from Poland called a Pole?"
"Yes, my son."
"Then, pa, why isn't a man from Holland called a Hole?"—Comic Cuts.

Insult Added.
Big Man (with a groan)—Will you be so kind as to get off my feet? Little Man (with a bundle)—I'll try, sir, is it much of a walk?—Cleveland

LUTHERANS PULL SECOND FROM THE WASHINGTON AVES

Beautiful Eight Inning Struggle Features Baseball Engagement

Playing together much better than they did on the previous evening the Washington Avenues gave the Lutherans a hard run for their money and were finally beaten out by the score of 5 to 4. Thereupon the Lutherans assumed first place. It was an eight inning struggle, and featured by lots of nice plays. It was one of the best games that has been played on the local diamond this year.

Friend Joe Mason essayed to pitch for the Lutherans and did a pretty fair job. He was a trifle wild but stuck to the mound until the fifth inning.

Heaver Miller.

The Lutherans started right in to win the game in the first inning. On two doubles they scored one. In the second inning they were given a score. A base on balls and a couple of misplays were responsible. In the fourth they got two more on three hits one a three bagger and a sacrifice.

The Washington Avenues captured three scores in the fourth inning, when the entire outfit batted. With only one hit they did all this too, but they were aided by that elusive element Luck. In the sixth they tied things up by getting one score on two hits, a stolen base and an error.

After shoving the first three Washington Avenue men to one side without any trouble, the Lutherans started in to do things in the eighth and did them. Miller was out on a fly to right. Fleming came up and with two strikes captured a hit in the direction of left. He stole second. Then Joe Mason with his mighty black stick walked to the plate and proceeded to lace out a two buster to middle right, scoring Fleming. That ended it. Score:

Lutherans	5	9	24	11	4
W. A. Pres.	4	6	22	8	4

One out when winning run was made. Two base hits—Butz, Stech, J. Mason. Three base hits—Motts, J. Mason. Stolen bases—Stech 2, Fleming 1, Kraynick 1. Sacrifice hit—J. Mason. Struck out—By Mason 3, by Miller 1, by Fontanesi 7. Bases on balls—Off Mason 4, off Miller 1, off Fontanesi 3. Hit by pitcher—Kraynick, Mitchell, Emplies—Byland and Daniel.

baseball game, but on an average of once or twice a night he pulls off some kind of a stunt that makes him look good. He bats contrary to every known rule, but there he is, the Washington Avenue's clean-up man.

A protest has been registered on Wednesday's game by the Washington Avenues. They claim that Shortstop Stech of the Lutherans when completing his home run failed to touch third base and the umpire did not call him out.

Miller complained of sore arm when Mason sent him in the box, but he pitched well anyhow.

The first time up Butz got a freak double right over the first baseman's head. He hadn't any more than pulled off that stunt until Stech pulled off another something similar.

Charley Mason covers first base well, but at present he seems to be a trifle weak in hitting.

Friend Joe Mason started in to pitch just to see how it would go. He found out.

In the Baptist game Tuesday Morris was credited with an error he shouldn't have had. It was a throw to first base to get Wilson who had the throw beaten plainly.

With the rivalry rising at fever heat the Executive Committee is promised some tall work keeping things going right from now on.

Fontanesi pitched good ball for the Washington Avenues.

Rev. Herbert H. Moninger Dies at Home in Ohio

SON-IN-LAW J. V. COOPER

Rev. Herbert H. Moninger, one of the best known young men in Sunday school work in the United States, died last night at 10:30 o'clock at his home in Cincinnati, O., after several weeks' illness. Mr. Moninger had undergone an operation for appendicitis and bowel trouble and his family had thought he was getting better.

Rev. Herbert H. Moninger was a native of this county. He was born at Lone Pine. After finishing work at various schools he assumed his first pastorate at Tiffin, Ohio, where he preached one year. He then received a call and accepted the pastorate of the First Church of Christ of Steubenville, O. He was there for three years doing a splendid work in that church. After leaving Steubenville he located in Cincinnati, and had been engaged in Sunday school work ever since, or about six years.

On Christmas day 1900 he was married to Miss Grace Cooper, whom he had met at Bethany, she having been graduated from that institution. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Cooper, of near Charleroi. She survives, and twin children, Malcolm and Mildred. The father, Onias Moninger of Washington and the following brothers and sisters also survive: Wildon Moninger, a farmer residing near Lone Pine; Mrs. Edward M. Rassey of Amity; and Misses Olive and Nettie at home. His mother died in 1904.

Rev. Moninger recently made a trip to Palestine. He lectured extensively.

BOY MEETS WITH SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Accidentally Discharges Shotgun Which Results in Amputation of Hand

Willie Pegg, the 15-year-old son of S. B. Pegg of near town, had his right hand blown off Thursday evening while he was holding a shotgun for his father. The boy after being attended by Dr. N. W. Patton was taken to the Memorial Hospital, Monongahela, where amputation was found necessary, and the arm was taken off just above the wrist.

Willie was out with his father at the Charleroi cemetery, of which Mr. Pegg is the care-taker. Mr. Pegg had a shotgun and he asked the boy to hold it for a moment while he was doing some work. Willie took hold of the gun, and resting it against a stump placed his right hand over the muzzle.

The boy turning around to look at something in the cemetery, the trigger caught and the gun went off, blowing Willie's hand to shreds.
